

“The Truth Shall Set You Free”

Part 11

It is important for readers to understand the similarities between the Roman Catholic Institution and the Islamic religion. This is not an accident. In the previous segment, I touched on the basic areas that are virtually identical. Some repetition for specific reasons on certain points of this segment appears. There is so much evidence to share and so few know the history of the early years of the Roman Empire which preceded the Roman Catholic Institution.

In this portion, we will take a closer look at many other areas that provide confirmation of the intertwined commonality of the religious structure and beliefs of these two so-called religions. They are not Jewish or Christian by any standard of measure. Note how the two overlap and can be passed off as almost one in the same:

1. Both the Roman Catholic Church and Islam believe that they are the one true church or religion. Turkey’s President, Recep Erdogan has launched his bid to establish an Islamic Caliphate through his invasion of Syria.
2. The Roman Catholic Church and Islam require mandatory fasting.
3. The Roman Catholic Church worships, prays to, and gives titles of God and to Mary. Islam highly esteems Mary and she is mentioned 34X times in the Koran.

"Even the infidel Muhammed glorifies Mary in his Koran, saying, 'The angels shall say to Mary, "Allah has chosen thee; he has made thee exempt from all stain"'. The Marian (Roman Catholic) Bible.

4. The Roman Catholic Church and Islam base their salvation on a complicated system of works and deny salvation by faith alone. There is no assurance of salvation in either religion.
5. Both cults deny the Biblical view of the Atonement. The Roman Catholic Church doctrine dictates that one must go to Purgatory to have his sins purged, and that Jesus simply paved the way. The Muslims believe their works will save them but they will not know their destiny until Judgment Day. This is because in their belief system, there is no atonement for sin, and God's grace does not exist. In Catholicism, salvation is in the “church” alone. To fully understand the meaning of this statement, we should be aware that the Catholic Catechism says the Son of God became man that we might become God! This is from the Catholic Catechism: “Part One: The Profession of Faith,” published in 1992: 400 – “The Word became flesh to make us ‘partakers of the divine nature’: ‘For this is why the Word became man, and the Son of God became the Son of man: so that man, by entering into communion with the Word and thus receiving divine sonship, might become a son of God.” “For the Son of God became man so that we might become God.” “The only-begotten Son of God, wanting to make us sharers in his divinity, assumed our nature, so that he, made man, might make men gods.” This is Biblical heresy and yet it is a basic teaching of the Roman Catholic Institution and its subservient Freemasonic Order._

6. The Roman Catholic Church claims visions and apparitions to add false doctrine. Muhammad claimed to be purified as a child by angels. He claimed to receive revelations from Archangel Jibril or Gabriel.
7. The Roman Catholic Church uses a rosary for their prayers while Islam uses prayer beads. The rosary and prayer beads are concepts taken from Babylonian paganism.
8. The Pope is the vicar or substitute of Christ for the Roman Catholic Church. (#882 - RCC Catechism). In Islam, Muhammad is called the last and final Messenger of God, the successor to Jesus.
9. The Roman Catholic Church and Islam have their own divorce system. The Roman Catholic Church grants annulments and Islam allows a man to divorce his wife by telling her she is divorced.
10. Islam rejects the Trinity doctrine, the Deity of Christ, salvation by grace through faith and teaches that Christians should be killed. However, since the late 1990's the Roman Catholic Church now does accept Christians, and believes that they are offered salvation because of their faith in Abraham. (#841 - RCC Catechism).
11. Both church organizations believe that leaving their religion will result in eternal damnation.
12. The Roman Catholic Church and Islam share a hatred for the Jews.
13. The Roman Catholic Church and Islam base some of their doctrine on Babylonian pagan traditions. For the Roman Catholic Church the traditions of goddess worship, rosary, pope, relics, purgatory, transubstantiation, praying to dead people, and idol worship are all based on paganism. The Allah of Islam was actually a pagan god, and not even the major deity.
14. The Roman Catholic Church and Islam have added books to support false doctrine. The Roman Catholic Church has added and accepts the Apocrypha and Islam, the Koran.
15. The Roman Catholic Church's priest system (including popes) has a history of sexual abuse of women and children. Islam (including Muhammad) has a history of sexual abuse of women and children. Both turn a blind eye to sexual abuse of young boys.

The premise of this series is that the Roman Catholic Institution created Islam. I will cover all the facts and evidence that corroborates this to be the case. The above 15 points just expose the similarities how Islam functions as a clone for Rome's hidden agenda.

So, as to intentionally discredit the popular well-known book, 'The Two Babylons' by Rev. Alexander Hislop, author Joel Richardson made an accusation in his newest book, 'Mystery Babylon', 19th century Scottish minister Rev. Alexander Hislop had a 'mental psychosis' or mental illness. Richardson assumes his readers are either too stupid or so ill-informed to even suggest Rev. Hislop's book 'The Two Babylons' is needed proof for a connection between ancient Babylon and Roman Catholicism. This is simply ludicrous and since the dead can't defend themselves, the opposition is silent.

I live approximately an hour's drive from three of the largest seminary libraries in the nation: Louisville Presbyterian Seminary, Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville, KY, and Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, KY near Lexington, KY. As a graduate seminary student some twenty-five years ago, my seminary student I.D. gave me access to all three libraries. I know for a fact that Hislop's premise has been confirmed and validated by as many as 70 books since Hislop wrote in 1858, and which contains even greater evidence of Catholicism's roots deep within Ancient Babylon. Richardson slandered Rev. Alexander Hislop without proof.

Joel Richardson hopes to persuade people by teaching that the Bible's Antichrist is a Muslim, to diverting attention from those who claim the Vatican is the Antichrist or Beast System. Jesuit writers have drawn from this playbook before in their deceptive tactics used during the Reformation era. This time it is meant to redirect attacks on the Vatican's image by placing the focus squarely onto Islam. The objective is to suggest that any accusation asserting that the Biblical Antichrist is the Roman Catholic Institution is unmerited while at the same time altering the identity of the Antichrist teaching by offering contrived evidence implying he will be a Muslim. Richardson's theory may succeed in fooling the public with his dribble of being a 'New York Times' bestseller but he will not fool those educated in history and particularly church history. Recently, I did a 3-part study "Jesuit Deception on the Rapture" on how the Jesuits were instrumental in their efforts to draw criticism away from the Papacy as the Antichrist. By enlisting Jesuits to author deceptive books containing ideas contrary to the historical facts, the Vatican hoped to alter reader's opinions by presenting misleading information. In those days, without the internet or library accessibility, the public fell prey to all sorts of lies disguised as authoritative source material. Back then, little effort was needed to be successful. Joel Richardson either does not know the history of the Roman Empire and the Roman Papacy or prefers to whitewash the truth! In coming segments I will continue to unmask this theory of a Islamic Antichrist.

Muhammed was born in 570 A.D., and chosen by the Augustinians. At his birth, Muhammed's grandfather possessed the authority of the house of Koreish, the governors of Mecca. Then his father and his grandfather died, causing the governorship of Mecca to be passed onto someone else. It was among their Arab converts to Catholicism that the concept of looking for an Arab prophet developed. The Augustinians spread a rumor that a great leader would appear to represent the Arabs and gather them together.

Ex-Jesuit Alberto Rivera relates the following story that he learned from Cardinal Bea. The Jesuits and the Vatican will deny it, even going as far as to deny Alberto Rivera ever lived or was a Jesuit. The evidence to the contrary cannot be refuted. ‘Teachers were sent to young Muhammad and he had intensive training. Muhammad studied the works of St. Augustine which prepared him for his “great calling.” The Vatican had Catholic Arabs across North Africa spread the story of a great one who was about to rise up among the people and be the chosen one of their God. A rich Catholic widow was sent to Muhammed to help guide him.’

Everything Alberto Rivera shared took place at the same time when Fr. Malachi Martin, another Jesuit was serving as a special assistant to Cardinal Bea. Fr. Martin served as a special assistant to the pope for six years before being relieved of his Jesuit oath at his own request. Shortly afterwards, he launched the publishing of his fictional novels on the Vatican and Roman Catholicism. Although his books are classified as fiction, they contain elements of truth and intrigue, secrets that only an insider or another Jesuit would be able to write with such authority to the specifics and details.

Both these former Jesuits, Alberto Rivera and Malachi Martin were murdered; it is no stretch of the imagination as to the reason why! Fr. Alberto told those close to him that he had been poisoned before he died, and Fr. Martin said he felt that he had been pushed down the nearly twenty-step stairwell of his Manhattan second floor apartment.

Cardinal Augustin Bea was characteristically known for his loose lips and he was accustomed to impressing the initiates and new priests who were studying at the Pontifical Institute. Cardinal Bea, a German Jew who converted to Catholicism was likely the leader of the so-called “German mafia” who ran interference for Pope Pius XII. He was Pope Pius’ confessor. All popes observe the confessional on a weekly basis; it should be noted that all popes must have Jesuits as their confessors. Above all Jesuit Cardinal Bea is known for his major influence in the Second Vatican Council or Vatican II of 1962-1965. He orchestrated the liberalization of the Roman Catholic Institution and is credited for the ecumenical movement that came out of Vatican II.

Jesuits were responsible for both Church Councils, the first being the Council of Trent called in 1545 A.D. The Council of Trent (Latin: Concilium Tridentinum) held between 1545 and 1563 A.D. in Trento (Trent) and Bologna, northern Italy; it was one of the Roman Catholic Church's most important ecumenical councils. Prompted by the Protestant Reformation, it has been described as the embodiment of the Counter-Reformation. The Second Vatican Council was first, and foremost, a re-affirmation of the Council of Trent. Those who have not read the Council summaries and documents do not realize that it did nothing to nullify, rescind, revoke, repeal, or cancel previous Church declarations against Protestants. Prior to Vatican II, Protestants were considered "heretics" and after Vatican II, they were merely referred to as "lost brethren". Only the language has changed with the Papacy!

The Second Vatican Council addressed relations between the Roman Catholic Church and the modern world. It was the twenty-first ecumenical council of the Catholic Church and only the second to be held at Saint Peter's Basilica in the Vatican. With Vatican II re-affirming the work of the Council of Trent, Protestants are by Council documents, still "heretics". One can read the Vatican II documents, which are available in multiple languages at the website:

www.vatican.va/archive/hist_councils/ii_vatican_council/index.htm.

The Roman Catholic Church's end game is to draw Muslims into Catholicism, so the more things they have in common, the easier the transition to a single world religion. This explains why the popes of the past half century have been so accommodating to the Muslims, even to the point of nausea. The reader can begin to see how close the two are intertwined.

Both Roman Catholicism and Islam revere the Blessed Virgin Mary. They both teach the concept of the Immaculate Conception of Mary. The famous Catholic Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, in his article 'Mary and the Muslims' said, "The Koran, which is the Bible of the Muslims, has many passages concerning the Blessed Virgin. First of all, the Koran believes in her Immaculate Conception, and also, in her Virgin Birth."

Mary is mentioned 34X times in the Koran, and the 19th Surah (chapter) is named after her. After Muhammad's daughter Fatima, Mary is revered as blessed above all women by orthodox Muslims. Bishop Sheen once said "the two largest religions in the world believe in fervent devotion to Mary and hold her virtues in the very highest esteem." It is Mary and Fatima that unites these two religions. Mary becomes the unifying factor in the last days for the Satanic agenda put forth by the Roman Catholic Institution.

Mary is for the Muslims the true Sayyida, or Lady. But after the death of Fatima, Mohammed wrote: "Thou shalt be the most blessed of all the women in Paradise, after Mary." Ask yourself this question, how would Muhammad ever get this idea if it wasn't from Rome? This connection is being used to draw Muslims to the Roman Church.

Both Roman Catholicism and Islam revere the Moon and Sun gods. Many images of the Catholic Virgin Mary show her standing over a crescent Moon. There are many worship images depicting the Sun through the Catholic Church, including St. Peter's Basilica at the Vatican. Roman Catholicism is all about "Sun" worship and not "Son" worship.

The Eucharist wafer represents the Sun god, which is placed on a crescent Moon in the Monstrance, representing their sexual union, and the rebirth of their son Tammuz. Islamic mosques have the crescent Moon representing the Moon god and a star for the Sun God. Many times you see pictures with the Sun cradled in the Islamic Moon symbol, representing their sexual union.

Roman Catholicism and Islam both use prayer beads. Prayer beads are used to mark the repetitions of prayers, chants or devotions. In Roman Catholicism, they are used to pray the rosary to the Virgin Mary. In Islam, the beads are traditionally used to keep count while saying the prayer known as the "Tasbih of Fatimah", which was a form of prayer offered as a gift by Muhammad to his daughter.

Both Roman Catholicism and Islam have pilgrimages. Roman Catholics flock to the Vatican to visit St. Peter's Basilica. The Hajj is an annual Islamic pilgrimage to Mecca, and a mandatory religious duty for Muslims that must be carried out at least once in their lifetime by all adult Muslims who are physically and financially capable of undertaking the journey.

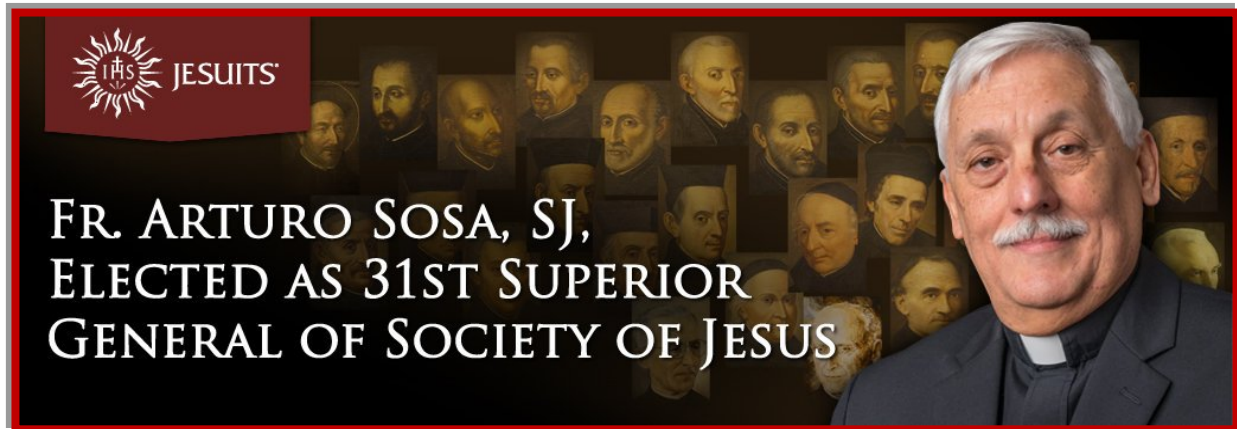

Both Roman Catholicism and Islam have forced conversions by the sword and believe in killing heretics. Islam continues to be in the news today for killing Christians. Their history documents heinous acts. What most don't seem to recognize is that they are also the covert military arm of the Roman Catholic Church. Historians estimate that during the Dark Ages and the Inquisition, the Roman Catholic Church killed over 50 million people who they deemed heretics, most of which were Christians who dared to own a Bible (forbid by the Church) or the Gospel of Christ.

'History of the Rise and Influence of the Spirit of Rationalism in Europe, Vol. 2' documents: "That the Church of Rome has shed more innocent blood than any other institution that has ever existed among mankind will be questioned by no Protestant who has a complete knowledge of history." At one event, remembered as the St. Bartholomew's Day Massacre, an estimated 100,000 Huguenots (Protestant Christians in France) were slaughtered. In Spain alone, the number of condemned exceeded three million, with about 300,000 burned at the stake during the length of the Spanish Inquisition. (Source: Pg. 259 of an updated version of 'Foxe's Book of Martyrs'; 2001; Publisher: Bridge-Logos.)

Both Roman Catholicism and Islam appear to partially fulfill Bible prophecy pertaining to the identity of the Antichrist. The specifics dealing with the identity of Antichrist will be dealt with in an exegetical analysis of the "Beast Empire" which is to come later in this series. The Koran was written in such a way so that it would lineup with the description of the Antichrist beast depicted in the book of Revelation. The early Augustinians and later the Jesuits' goal was and still is, to deceive undiscerning Christians and Muslims. Deception has been the Roman Catholic Institution's standard operating procedure through the centuries. This was revealed in the deceitful methods applied by the Jesuits designed to take the focus off the pope as the Biblical Antichrist. This was the topic in the series: "Jesuit Deception on the Rapture".

The Bible's description in Revelation 13 and 17 about the Antichrist Beast can only describe one people group: the Roman Catholic Church. The "Beast" of Revelation is not a single "Beast". The Greek word "Beast" "Therion" is in fact three beasts! My descriptive term "one people group" is merely a blanket statement. The evolving details about "three" Beasts will be sorted out in a future series titled: "The Beast Empire" within the broader title of this current series. What is so bizarre is the extent to which present-day Protestant denominations will attempt to deceive their congregations of this ecumenical fraud. Since the 1990's, all of the "mainline" Protestant denominations have been engaged in various ecumenical activities designed to facilitate a so-called "Reunion" with Rome come this October, 2017. Pope Francis has widely and extensively lobbied the past four years to bring this "unity" to fruition. His plan is to use the 500th Anniversary of the Protestant Reformation as a platform to send his message that the Reformation is over! Pope Francis' directive is that we are "One" again. With this as the agenda we are seeing the earmarks and getting a glimpse of the coming "One World Church".

Here is a picture of the newest Jesuit Superior General, Arturo Sosa. He was elected the 31st General Superior of the Society of Jesus (the 'Black Pope') on October 14, 2016. As you can see by the photo, Fr. Arturo Sosa is a handsome, dapper looking gentleman. I caution readers of being captivated by his handsome appearance. From Jesuit headquarters a few blocks down from Vatican Square, he holds the reins of power within the Roman Catholic Institution. He rules the United States through the Vatican's U.S. headquarters located at Georgetown University, in Georgetown, MD. Pope Francis (the White Pope) is merely the Papacy puppet controlled from behind the stage curtain of the real power, Fr. Arturo Sosa (the Black Pope).

A group of Catholic scholars and "traditionalists" will meet the middle of April 2017, for the purpose of discussing how one would go about "impeaching" a presiding pope. Pope Francis has been referred to as a "weapon of mass destruction". Theologians, Catholic scholars, and lawyers have concluded that since his election, Pope Francis' reign has been one disaster after another. Derek Gilbert of 'SkyWatchTV' noted the story on impeaching the pope in his news report of March 29, 2017. The global press, especially Vatican reporters in Rome have written widely over the past year concerning the open and growing rebellion among members of the Roman Curia or College of Cardinals.

A website called "Canon Law Made Easy" has said that it cannot be done, citing Canon Law 1404; there are no procedural rules by which a pope can be declared unfit or unable to fulfill his official duties. This question came up when Pope Benedict XVI resigned in 2013. All of this has the hierarchy in turmoil. It may be time for the pope to be careful what he eats and especially what he drinks. In considering the history of the 'Borgia Cup' used to quietly eliminate previous popes, the Vatican may be making plans for a replacement soon.

History is not an academic field most college students study and presumably not something taught in public schools. Most, if not all this information will be new to readers. Specific points have been repeated in this segment for important emphasis and was noted because of its importance in the larger framework of this series. Would you believe that as early as 1688 the Roman Catholic Institution infiltrated the United States government? This historical fact is unknown by most people, and yet it is a significant part of America's history. It was nearly a century before the new Nation declared its Independence from Great Britain. Since the mid-1500's by means of deceit, treachery, assassination, the use of the Hegelian Dialectic of "Thesis-Antithesis-Synthesis" (a.k.a.: "Problem-Reaction-Solution") the Jesuits have been on their own crusade to restore temporal power to the Vatican. In a future segment, I will discuss how this Jesuit tactic is used to bring about their global agenda.

Both Roman Catholicism and Islam are engaged in what they might term Holy wars. Both religions are designed to wage war against their enemies. The Islamic Koran was written in such a way as to provoke Muslim hatred toward Jews and non-Catholics, and meant to galvanize them to wage war against Jews and the true followers of Christ. With the purpose of destroying their enemies, the Roman Catholic Church has amassed a blood-stained history of Holy Wars while covertly using the military prowess and powers of countries they controlled, such as France and Spain. This fact helps readers understand why the United States has been in an almost perpetual state of war throughout its existence as they act as the policeman of the world on behalf of the Vatican. Today the Jesuits use the military and intelligence agencies of the U.S. and Israel to carry out their Holy Wars.

An essential Turkish vote that has profound implications is scheduled for mid-April, 2017, in Turkey. The Turkish government could, in essence grant full dictatorial power to the Turkish president, Recep Erdogan for life! President Erdogan has joined forces with Russian president Vladimir Putin. This does not bode well in any way for Israel! Pope Francis and his Jesuits walk a fine line and risk losing control of their love-hate relationship with Islam. NATO and the U.S. is dependent on the forward located air base at Incirlik, Turkey. The U.S. keeps between 50 and 100 nuclear weapons there. Recently Islamic protestors threatened to tear down the fence of the base and capture the nukes stored at the base. Incirlik is an important trans-shipment point in the narcotics trade between Afghanistan and Europe. Not so well known is the fact it is a trans-shipment point for heroin destined to the cities of Europe and America. The Vatican and the Erdogan regime, along with international banks get a kick-back for their role in the narcotics business. This includes the processing of opium poppies, smuggling shipments through a network of routes, distribution to dealer levels, and money laundering of the sale of heroin.

In the chart on the next page, one can see how the opium poppy business has flourished in Afghanistan. Since the U.S. first deployed boots on the ground in 2001, U.S. Army troops stand guard over the opium poppy fields of Afghanistan. This has been a well-known fact since 2002. All one need to do is simply google “opium production in Afghanistan” and see the evidence. The photo shows an American soldier standing amidst the colorful flowers guarding an Afghan opium poppy field associated with the source of so many infinite numbers of addicts and victims who die of drug over-dose. The untold cost of this cancer on humanity is incomprehensible. The corrupt global banks launder $750-billion a year from opium production to support their lavish lifestyle and desire for control and world dominance. The Vatican is in bed with men such as Turkey’s Recep Erdogan. The area of Afghanistan is known as the “Golden Crescent”, a reminder of the “Golden Triangle” days when the CIA put ‘bricks’ of drugs inside the aluminum caskets used to ship the remains of American soldiers being returned to the U.S. for burial.

The Italian press has published numerous news stories of Vatican prelates and staff arrested by Interpol in transporting drugs worth hundreds of billions in Euros and U.S. dollars in and out of the Vatican gates.

The following news report was one of the most recent examples of Vatican corruption revealing a complicit link to drugs and money laundering two years ago.

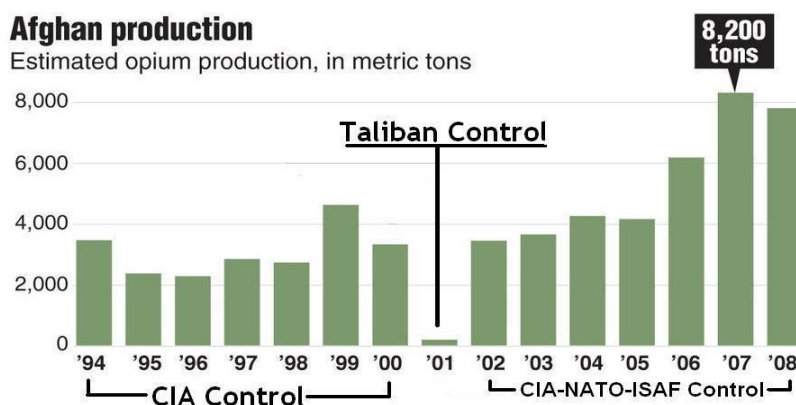

VATICAN CITY - A Vatican monsignor already on trial for allegedly plotting to smuggle $26 million from Switzerland to Italy was arrested Tuesday in a separate case for allegedly using his Vatican bank accounts to launder money.

Financial police in the southern Italian city of Salerno said Monsignor Nunzio Scarano, dubbed "Monsignor 500" for his purported favored banknotes, had transferred millions of euros in fictitious donations from offshore companies through his accounts at the Vatican's Institute for Religious Works (Vatican Bank).

Acting on evidence provided by the Vatican bank, police said they seized 6.5 million euros in real estate and assets in Italian bank accounts Tuesday, including Scarano's luxurious Salerno apartment, filled with gilt-framed oil paintings, ceramic vases and other fancy antiques.

A local priest was also placed under house arrest and a notary public was suspended for alleged involvement in the money-laundering plot. Police said in all, 52 people were under investigation.

Scarano's lawyer, Silverio Sica, said his client merely took donations from people he thought were acting in good faith to fund a home for the terminally ill. He conceded, however, that Scarano used the money to pay off a mortgage.

Who is the drug dealer?

"We continue to strongly maintain the good faith of Don Nunzio Scarano and his absolute certainty that the money came from legitimate donations," Sica told The Associated Press.

The Salerno investigation was already under way when Scarano was arrested in June in Rome on the smuggling accusations.

Police and Sica have said the money involved in both the Swiss smuggling case and the Salerno money-laundering case originated with one of Italy's most important shipping families, the d'Amicos. On Tuesday, financial police said more than 5 million euros had been made available to Scarano by the D'Amicos via offshore companies.

Police and Sica described the laundering plot as follows: Scarano allegedly withdrew 555,248 euros from his Vatican account in cash in 2009 and brought it into Italy. Since he couldn't deposit it in an Italian bank without drawing suspicion, he selected 50 friends to accept 10,000 euros apiece in cash in exchange for a check or wire transfer in that same amount.

The money then went to pay off a mortgage on a Salerno property held in the name of a company Scarano partly owned.

The D'Amico family, from Scarano's hometown of Salerno, denied its involvement in a July 1 statement. Their communications firm did not immediately respond to a request seeking new comment Tuesday. No one in the family has been arrested in either case.

Scarano was fired from his job as an accountant in the Vatican's main financial office and Vatican prosecutors seized the 2.3 million still in his accounts after his arrest.

The Vatican's top prosecutor said last week that the Holy See had responded to two official requests from Italy for information about Scarano's accounts, while making its own request to Italian authorities for help in its own money-laundering investigation against the prelate.

Salerno Prosecutor Elena Guarino went out of her way to praise how the bank, known as the IOR, had provided evidence against Scarano. The IOR had previously reported to its own financial regulators that a 10-year analysis of Scarano's bank account activity showed some 7 million Euros had come into and out of the accounts in his name.

"The IOR opened its doors," she said. "They gave us ample and immediate cooperation without any type of insistence."

It was an unusual acknowledgement by Italian prosecutors of the Vatican's cooperation in cross-border legal affairs following years of tensions over

Italian accusations that the Vatican bank was essentially an offshore tax haven for well-connected Italians.

Vatican spokesman the Rev. Federico Lombardi similarly praised the development as "fruit of the collaboration" between Vatican and Italian investigators, though he noted that Italian investigators didn't physically take evidence from the IOR premises.

Scarano's original arrest in June led to the resignations of the Vatican bank's top two managers and accelerated efforts to make the troubled institute conform to international anti-money-laundering norms.

Pope Francis has made reforming the bank a priority and has named a fact-finding commission to look into its activities and legal structure.

Scarano's initial arrest in the smuggling case was reduced to house arrest because of his ailing health. Sica said the prelate would serve the new arrest warrant also under house arrest.

In the Rome smuggling case, prosecutors say Scarano, a financier and a carabinieri officer devised an elaborate plot to transport 20 million euros in a private jet from Switzerland to Italy so to avoid paying customs duties. The plot fell apart because the financier reneged at the last minute.

Sica has said Scarano in that case was merely acting as a middleman.

The issue over Rome's creation of Islam became problematic last year in 2016. Signs of a new Caliphate began surfacing in Turkey with President Recep Erdogan in the past two years. By threatening the European Union with recent demands for Europe to pay him billions in extortion ransom or get his refugees, Erdogan has the European Union frightened! It is now clear that a Muslim invasion of Europe has begun. In fact, several million refugees remain isolated in Turkey as Turkish President Erdogan holds the rest of Europe hostage by demanding billions of dollars in aid. The EU has quickly capitulated and lives in fear of Turkey. Germany's Angela Merkel is the weakest leader in Germany's entire history and must be sleeping lightly these days. Germany is presently seeing the rise of Neo-Nazi groups all over Germany, a clear sign of her soon removal from power.

Failure to pay what amounts to nothing short of protection money, says Erdogan, will force him to release these hordes of people on the whole of Europe. Following months of appeasement to Turkey's dictator, Recep Erdogan, Europe has found itself surprised that as it yields to every incremental demand, Turkey simply asks for more and more. One such example was chronicled by the media in this headline: "Turkey demands EU hands over €3bn for refugees" It went on to report that "a row has erupted between Turkey and the EU over billions of pounds in aid for Syrian refugees, casting fresh doubt on a fragile deal to halt the flow of people towards Europe.”

Erdogan's argument is that he wants the money to be transferred over to him directly to dispense with as he pleases, while Europe insists that UN agencies oversee that the money be spent as designated for refugee needs, instead of funding another wing for Erdogan's palace.

Of course, the only reason Erdogan is confident he has leverage is because Turkey is currently hosting over 3 million Syrian "refugees" that he is holding back from flooding into Europe. If released it would potentially result in the most acute episode of Europe's so-called refugee crisis.

However, this onslaught of Europe-bound refugees is also Erdogan's biggest trump card. Should Europe deny anything Turkey wants, he will simply open the gates leading to spiraling political chaos of the type already seen in Austria and Germany where anti-immigrant parties have stormed higher in the political polls in recent months.

As with most cases of extortion, additional demands tend to follow. A new warning quickly brought another demand by Turkey. Burhan Kuzu, a high-ranking deputy for Turkey's ruling AKP party and former adviser to President Erdogan, demanded that Europe be opened visa-free for Turkish citizens. He said: "If the wrong decision is taken, we will unleash the refugees!"

Among the real refugees seeking political and religious asylum, are literally millions of fighting age men with extremist views who are preparing to launch attacks on European countries. The attacks in Paris and Belgium in recent months are proof positive of their scheme.

The fact that terrorist organizations have been found with caches of war grade weapons and are actively trying to compromise nuclear power plants in the region suggests that, should they effectively coordinate attacks utilizing weapons of mass destruction, be they chemical, biological, radiological or nuclear, the prediction of turning Europe into a total wasteland could certainly come to pass. We know weapons of mass destruction have been smuggled into Europe, leading many concerned citizens to not only acquire self-defense firearms, but personal protective equipment for CBRN attacks.

We also know that a similar threat exists on the Southern border of the United States, where terrorists have already been captured attempting to cross into the U.S. Further highlighting the threat, the previous Obama administration recently issued a report outlining four ways that a nuclear or radiological device could be used to attack Americans on U.S. soil. That report was followed by a new policy in Texas where game wardens operating close to the southern border are being issued radiological and nuclear detection equipment to assist them in identifying threats along smuggling routes.

Not long ago, George Friedman, political strategist and forecaster and the president of 'Stratfor Intel', highlighted Turkey as one of the countries which would receive a great deal of world attention in the near future. Turkey now has the second largest army in Europe and is the fourth strongest military power in the world. Joel Richardson has inferred the Antichrist will come from Turkey, and not Rome. That cannot be possible for many reasons, some raised in past few segments of this series and some yet to be noted. By Biblical analysis, Turkey's Erdogan, would like you to put a square block in a round peg hole. I have much to say about this deception being foisted upon the global public. Joel Richardson and Walid Shoebat [not their real names] are, in my analytical opinion, Judas goats in the service of the Jesuit Illuminati. Walid Shoebat has been previously exposed in the media as being a fake, a fraud, and a liar. As to Richardson, he hides behind a cloak of secrecy and anonymity. We know absolutely nothing about his professional, academic, ethnic, nationality or social background. He is an enigma!

Using the word "enigma" plus the name Joel Richardson in a Google search, I did find out that one Phillip Marlowe noted at his web site - "The only thing I can find on his earlier life is that he used to live in the Middle East (Israel?), working as an artist (right). Then he had a major epiphany about the Muslims and practically overnight becoming an expert on the Koran, writing a book "exposing the deadly threat to the West." He seems to be quite prolific and since has quite a few more books out, one recently on the Anti-Christ arising from the Muslim world (the 12th Imam stuff Zio suck-up Glenn Beck loves so much).

It really doesn't take any expertise in theology to know what's right and wrong, what's truly sinful or witness the incredible pridefulness of Jewry today.

Folks, we have ourselves a major league False Prophet in Mr. Joel Richardson, or whatever his real name is. He may well be a Jewish/Israeli agent, given a soap box by Zionist media, Zionist brown-nosers like Glenn Beck and World Net Daily to target White Christians for brainwashing — all aimed at keeping up American support of that satanic state of Israel.

Apparently, the Father of Lies is now running amok in America."

— Phillip Marlowe

All of this is further indication that Bible prophecy is beginning to become apparent and in the daily news. I read the daily posts from Walid Shoebat's website. Last year he posted a report at his site that most people probably missed. Gathering good intelligence requires that one read the adversaries press. The headline at Walid's website read: "Today Major Prophecy Was Fulfilled." The date of August 24th is of prophetic significance for Muslims worldwide; it represents the beginning of Islam's Caliphate (Ottoman Empire) and is why Turkey today sent a massive land invasion to Syria.

What Western media is NOT telling you is that, August 24th is the anniversary when the Ottoman Empire initiated their takeover of the Middle East at the Battle of Dabiq, Syria in 1516. August 24th is the same date when the land invasion of Turkey's largest intervention in Syria began. Wednesday, August 24th, 2016, was exactly 500 years to the day from when the Ottomans began their historic control over the Middle East. Why has no one reported anything about this in the mainstream media? Recep Erdogan called the invasion of Syria, "Operation Euphrates Shield".

Now, ask yourself if that is just a coincidence? No, I seriously doubt it! While the West is fast asleep, the Arabic tweets are asking all over why Erdogan chose this date. Since the start of the Syrian civil war in 2011 in the Middle East, this is clearly seen as the "Neo-Ottoman invasion". Behold the Turkish tanks covering the hills entering from Turkey into Syria while Erdogan spoke to the massive Turkish crowds that he is accomplishing what he has promised, that Syria, Iraq, the Balkans and the Caucasus is now within reach. This was a speech that no one bothered to translate into English. The media published pictures and video showing dozens of U.S. made M-48 and M-60 tanks coming across the Syrian Desert in rows of 12 abreast. Currently, Syria is being diced and sliced by competing parties seeking to establish strongholds for control of the land over who gets to build their pipelines.

Declaring this invasion, Erdogan spoke at his palace to massive crowds, saying: "...When we speak of Syria or the Balkans or the Caucasus, these were part of our [Ottoman] geography from 100 years ago. I believe we will overcome all the obstacles in front of us, which will be the will of Allah... Turkey has a massive power and will use it." Turkey and Russia will quickly do a blitzkrieg run for the Golan Heights now held by Israel. This has Israel reinforcing its military defense placements on the Golan. Turkey's army is largely U.S.-equipped.

The Caliphate's seat of government will first be established in Istanbul (Constantinople), but it plans to swiftly move to Jerusalem. Their strategy is to overrun Israel and declare global jihad. This is the stated plan of the Islamic Brotherhood. Will this part of their objective be achieved? What really lies ahead for us? I contend they will be destroyed on the mountains of Israel as Ezekiel 39:2 specifically states. The Gog and Magog coalition will lose 5/6ths of their combined armies. The heresy of an Islamic Antichrist will subside in the dust of God's all-consuming supernatural destruction of these invading hoards. Within a few weeks of that event the focus will return to the true Antichrist "Beast" System.

In February 2013, Israeli authorities awarded Afek Oil and Gas an exclusive 36-month license to do petroleum exploration in a 153-square-mile (400 km²) plot in the Golan Heights, which the UN recognizes to be Syrian territory. Afek subsequently conducted above-ground geophysical tests and based on its preliminary analysis, has applied for a ten well exploratory drilling program south of Katzrin in the southern Golan Heights. In 2015, Afek discovered a substantial amount of oil and natural gas reserves.

Genie Oil and Gas (GOGAS) explore conventional oil in the Golan Heights through Afek Oil and Gas, and is or has been involved in the oil shale projects through American Shale Oil (AMSO), Israel Energy Initiatives (IEI) and Genie Energy Mongolia. 89% of GOGAS is owned by Genie Energy while Jacob Rothschild, Michael Steinhardt and Rupert Murdoch among others hold minority interests. Of those associated with the GOGAS and Afek Oil and Gas, Genie's advisory board reads like a major U.S. corporation, including Dick Cheney, James Woolsey, Larry Summers, and Bill Richardson.

These recent discoveries are examples of huge oil and gas resources on the Golan that raises the stakes for control of the Golan Heights. In addition to the militarily strategic point of the Golan, the added energy fields become an irresistible prize for Syria and Turkey.

Make no mistake about it, world-changing events are poised ready to break out in the Middle East. If you didn't know it, or haven't been paying attention, events have begun to occur in Europe, the USA and Australia right now that are set to change the world overnight. Big upheavals are coming to you and your family's lives! Make no mistake on this issue, ancient prophecies that foretell what is to happen are about to be fulfilled.

Do not be deceived by Pope Francis, any of his statements and claims. This man is an ardent one-worlder, a globalist, as his Jesuit Order always has been. He desires a one-world government, with himself as the head of it. He therefore subscribes to the strategy that chaos should be created, which will lead to a new order, with more power in the hands of government and, ultimately, in the hands of the pope. Throughout their history, the Jesuits have subscribed to this theory as the basis and modus operandi for their plan to dominate and control the world. Time and again, in history, they have started wars, assassinated leaders, stirred and agitated behind the scenes because they know that out of chaos a new order can be created. It has worked for them, over and over again, and now they are hoping it will work again for them in Europe, via the chaos, destruction and lawlessness being created throughout Europe by Muslims. Francis knows that today he cannot do what the Papacy would have done in centuries past. He cannot rally hundreds of thousands of fanatical Roman Catholic troops to invade other countries, to rampage through such countries and give people the ultimatum: "Convert to Romanism or die!" This would not be tolerated in the modern world.

But Francis knows that Islam is prepared to do such things! In fact, Islam is not only prepared to do them, it is doing them. It is doing the very things the Roman Catholic Institution has used such devastating effect in the past (the recent past), wars, massacres, tortures, and killings. Once, not long ago, the pope would have simply unleashed his own Papal storm troopers across Europe to force its various countries to toe the Papal line. Today, he will back Islam to do precisely the same thing! Although it is not common knowledge, the Vatican was a major player in the creation of World Wars I and II. That subject is for another series. Rome was all about destroying Russia and the Orthodox Catholic Church.

The fuse is burning and the clock is ticking! L.A. Marzulli appeared on a 'Prophecy Watchers' program with prophecy teacher Gary Stearman, and noted how Recep Erdogan changed his policy on a dime overnight. One day he was in the US/NATO camp and the very next he was embracing Russian president Vladimir Putin. We have all the parties to the Gog and Magog coalition (described in Ezekiel 38) ready to attack Israel, the apple of God's eye. With all due respect to those who see all this evidence as signs that Islamic Turkey is the Antichrist, this so-called evidence presumes one knows the Bible better than the Bible itself. Islam is not the next great Beast of the Bible. It will be crushed by God as the Bible notes in Ezekiel 38 and 39. The real Antichrist Beast is still yet to come!
